IEC in Motion Amidst the Pandemic

The International Exchange Center cares about the safety of ECUPL foreign experts and international students at times of the crisis. It acts swiftly in response to the spread of the disease by sending 2 batches of medical supplies to all foreign experts at domestic and abroad and actively communicating with its international students. IEC reaches and maintains regular contact with its students to offer useful guidance of disease prevention, ease the psychological pressure and settle their daily demands at these special times.
